Of course if the History item is about a call you'll read date, time and number of attempts performed by you or your party. Else, if it's about messages, you'll be able to read what your party wrote you about.

Please remember that once you read a Secure Message it starts to expire and after 15 minutes you won't be able to read its content anymore!

In each History detail view it's possible to either Secure Call or Secure Message that specific contact whose history you're reading.
